

Kathryn Buch

Kathryn Buch (Kat) teaches beginning and intermediate obedience classes at QKC and sometimes assists in conformation. She has been teaching since 2010, but has been training dogs since she was a young child, helping her grandfather. She trained her own Boxer from a paperback book and started taking classes at QKC in 1996.

Kat owns four Japanese Chins and co-owns a bitch from a litter she bred in 2018. She has also owned a Poodle, Boxer, Rottweiler, Min Pin, and three Pugs. Kat has put Champion, Grand Champion, and International Champion titles on dogs she has owned, and has also put CGC titles on the Pugs. Her most challenging training situation was with a dog she owned who was very fearful of people and had no socialization. It was a long process to build her confidence and she credits Mary Price with guiding her through the process successfully. She finds helping her students understand and build meaningful relationships with their dogs to be the most rewarding aspect of teaching.
